Jobs

Year	Company	Job title
03.2018 - 08.2018	Qpony	Junior data analyst	My first part-time job as a data analyst. My objective was to analyze user behawior with the help of python/excel and data sources like data warehouse/Google Analitycs/CleverTap. I also started to learn how can I use machine learning to improve user experience, like OCR, image recognition or simple recommendation system.
09.2018 - current	FANDOM	Data analyst intern	Full-time internship based on two machine learning projects. Purpose of the first one was to divide users into two groups based on probability of watching featured video, so we can target video ad campaigns better. This project I designed, created and deployed on my own with help of my mentor, using PySpark to gather data and sk-learn to train a model. Besides that I work on predicting Google Ad Manager response for an ad to manage number of ad slots on a page, and work with mobile app team as product analyst.
